Stowe Mission began as German Village Baptist Church in 1967 with a vision to help hard-living community members find gospel hope and restoration. In 2010 it was reorganized as Stowe Mission, a stand-alone non-profit striving to strengthen the community by meeting the physical, emotional, and spiritual needs of their neighbors.

GTCA will collect non-perishable food donations for the community food pantry. Donations will be distributed in cooperation with the Salvation Army for families in need in South Columbus.
